Two is better than one

The dawning of the new decade
was accompanied by expectations and hope.

However, many of us have been hit by double the trouble, finding ways to cope.

To pivot, to pause, what can we do?
Can we see the double opportunity that lies in front of us too?

Perhaps it's time to double down and get creative
To make our mark in print, as we create a shift.

Let's lean in and lean on each other,
as we stand together in solidarity,
doubly committed for what tomorrow may be.

If you are looking for a print and/or packaging partner
to create meaningful work, reach out to us.
We have a whole community here in double support, just ask.

There is double strength in double courage.
